Message from the Cross Country Ski Ontario (XCSO) Chair, Steve Howard

It is with great pleasure that I share with you our strategic plan ... the culmination of a year-long journey that had us connect with our members and key stakeholders through consultation, planning workshops and a provincial survey. This plan reflects our organization's desire to plan more strategically, with a view of casting a longer-term horizon upon which we can set and achieve the goals and objectives deemed important by our members. This plan sets out an ambitious vision for Ontario's cross-country skiing enthusiasts. It paves the way for a promising future where more people enjoy the benefits of our sport and more athletes achieve their full high performance potential. It sets the tone for greater accountability where we look to make important investments in our capacity to deliver on our promises. It signals our desire to communicate proactively and to promote the countless benefits that our sport offers to people of all ages and ability.

We are proud of the care and attention that went into building this plan and the proactive engagement that provided our members with the opportunity to contribute to it. We hope that you will feel as inspired as we do after reading this plan and look to the future with a sense of increased belonging and a deepened commitment. Both are required to bring this plan to life.

Steve Howard
Chair, Cross Country Ski Ontario

Strategic Planning Process

In November 2014, the Board of Directors met and determined to be more deliberate in our planning efforts. We identified the need to create a four-year strategic plan that would provide us with a compelling vision, re-affirm our mission and connect us to a core set of values that would guide our way forward. We wanted to meaningfully engage our members in determining the key areas that would allow the organization to prosper. We also wanted to create a plan that would be a model for our peers in Ontario and across the country.

In January 2015, we hired external consultants to support our planning vision. Guided by our Strategic Planning Committee (SPC), we designed an engagement process that connected us to our members through a number of different methods. The SPC met multiple times to deliberate, interpret, refine and make recommendations that are now reflected in this plan. The final plan was approved by the Board.

To engage, inspire and involve Ontarians in cross-country skiing for life.

The following timeline captures the main highlights along our strategic planning journey:

Timeline

November 2014	Board meeting to affirm the need to develop a strategic plan
January 2015	External consultants were hired to support the process
April 2015	Strategic Planning Committee was struck and a Process Terms of Reference for the Strategic Plan was developed
May 2015	A planning workshop with 40 members of Ontario’s cross country skiing community was held in Sudbury.
June/July 2015	The SPC reviewed the meeting notes from the planning workshop and created the draft foundational statements (mission, vision, values) and draft priorities. The SPC also agreed to further engage members through a survey.
July/August 2015	A survey was issued to all XCSO members with 142 respondents completing the survey. The questions provided respondents with the opportunity to comment on the draft mission, vision and values statement; to provide feedback on the goals identified at the planning workshop; to provide specific outcomes as evidence of success; and to share any further ideas that would help with the development of the strategic plan.
August 2015	A member of the SPC reviewed the survey findings and created a report summarizing the findings. The SPC reviewed the report and made changes to the foundational statements based on the survey findings. Goals were identified by the SPC to capture the key areas of priority over the next four years.
September 2015	The Board approved the foundational statements in principle and agreed that a smaller group should convene in November to create a set of objectives for each of the identified goals. Two members of the SPC were tasked with writing up the strategic plan, which would be used as an organizing framework for the upcoming workshop.
November/December 2015	A small group of experienced and knowledgeable volunteers and staff representing all Districts, and Committees came together in Duntroon to review and refine the key elements within the strategic plan and used this framework to create an operational plan for the 2016/2017 season.

Our Relationships

Key findings during the consultation process

Through various engagement processes, we identified the following considerations that need to be addressed over the term of our strategic plan. These include:

Strengths

- XCSO identified a number of strengths in which it should continue to invest including:
  - The quality of its Skill Development Program for children, in particular the Jackrabbit program
  - The expertise and dedication of its key volunteers
  - Performance at Nationals
  - Financial stability
  - The quality of its coaches
  - The partnership between XCSO and the National Development Centre (NDC) Thunder Bay; and the willingness to work collaboratively.

Opportunities

- XCSO identified a number of opportunities that would strengthen the organization as it looks to achieve its vision. Some of the more compelling opportunities include:
  - Expansion of membership services and outreach including sharing of best practices, providing value for membership such as seminars and workshops, and a coordinated race calendar
  - Program development that targets new participants and the entire Sport for Life framework
  - Athlete development including recruitment to the Ontario Talent Squad and Ontario Ski Team and retention programs for transitioning athletes
  - Strengthening organizational structure and increasing capacity through enhanced coaching career opportunities
  - Conduct a human resources review of the current organizational structures of XCSO and NDC Thunder Bay
  - Improving overall communication including updating the website and promoting our sport to increase visibility

To engage, inspire and involve Ontarians in cross-country skiing for life.

XCSO identified a few areas of concern that the organization needs to attend to over the duration of the plan which include:

- XCSO's governance model may be limiting its future growth. As a Board focused on running the organization, this limits the amount of time devoted to strategic thinking and future growth. There is also a risk that the current structure of the organization and its members is not aligned with expectations of members and needs of running a thriving sport business.
- There is little to no awareness of the XCSO brand and associated benefits among its members which can result in a lack of understanding of what the provincial body does and how it contributes to cross country skiing in Ontario. This includes the overall visibility of XCSO which can impact the ability to raise revenues beyond membership.
- There is a lack of succession planning to ensure the next generation of volunteers (coaches, officials, Board, committees) at all levels are recruited. This affects the organization's ability to think beyond the immediate to achieve longer-term goals.

In order to achieve the goals and objectives that the organization aspires to in the future, an increase in leadership capacity, including coaching leadership will be an important consideration moving forward. We have taken the key points above into account in the development of our strategic plan and are confident that these will be addressed in the implementation of the strategies created to meet our stated goals and objectives. The goal of this plan is ensure that we are aligned around the key priority areas of the organization and that we use this plan as a foundation upon which to base our decisions.

Our Foundational Statements

When we met to discuss our intent to develop our strategic plan, we set out high expectations for ourselves as a committee and as an organization. We had a vision of developing a strategic plan that inspires the XCSO Board, our members and stakeholders to participate in and contribute to the organization over the next four years. An important aspect in achieving our intent was to review and renew our commitment to our mission and articulate our vision and values. Our foundational statements remind us who we are, why we are doing what we do, and how we work together to achieve our desired outcomes.

Monitoring our Success

XCSO is committed to learning from what works well and to adapt as required.. As we continue to progress through the scope of the strategic plan, key tasks will be developed based on the prioritized goals and objectives. A year by year operational plan is currently under development and identifies short and long term targets. These targets will be measured against key indicators and assessed and re-evaluated on a yearly basis. Ongoing review and reflection will help the staff and Board determine what changes need to be made in order to achieve our desired outcomes.

In 2020, our province, country, the world was forever changed with the COVID-19 pandemic. In March 2020, cross country ski facilities were shut down, competitions including the National Championships 2020 were cancelled, programming and training were suspended. As the pandemic started to ease, we began to plan programming as we had always done based on return to sport protocols developed by XCSO staff with community support and input. Clubs and teams worked towards keeping their collective community safe and returned to our sport with the guidelines in place. As the dryland season progressed it became quickly apparent that continuing with the same programming plans was not an option. A shift in thinking to What We Can Do helped staff, coaches, athletes, club administrators etc to plan in an ever changing environment. Barriers and obstacles became opportunities and the virtual learning environment became a new way to connect and learn for our ski community; coaches, officials, club administrators, athletes, both para and able bodied together.

As the Cross Country Ski Ontario community continues to adapt to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Board of Directors has determined that rather than forging ahead with a new strategic plan in an uncertain environment, the organization will continue to work with our existing Strategic plan and extend it to 2023. As our membership has increased significantly due to new members joining, we will focus on member retention; developing and building a sustainable program structure for able bodied and para athletes; continue to explore and develop virtual learning opportunities; and diversifying our financial portfolio
